

Questions for Proposal Review Discussion

1. Has the writer clearly defined the topic? Does the topic seem too broad or too narrow for an 8-10 pg. essay? What suggestions would you make for narrowing or broadening the topic?
2. Has the writer shown how this piece could be interesting for a wider audience (or a narrower audience)?
3. Does the writer acknowledge controversy around the issue? What different arguments or angles of approach can you imagine in an essay like this? (Remember: the writing challenge in the piece is to present a comparative analysis of different points of view.)
4. Does the writer have a plan for community research? What community research or other bibliographic source suggestions do you have?
5. What other suggestions or comments do you have for the writer?
